

Evaluation Guide

PROJECT NUMBER FOUR

Hands Up

DATE _____

SPEAKER _____

SUBJECT _____

EVALUATOR _____

Note to the evaluator: The speaker is working on gestures in this, the fourth project. Your attention is to be directed toward their manner of delivery rather than to the material, although the latter should not be overlooked in your comments. Try to help them in the matter of gestures. Watch for any bad mannerisms which seem to persist. Encourage them to greater efforts.

For your spoken evaluation, give it in a brief, well planned little speech. Stick to gestures and appearance. DON'T READ THE QUESTIONS ALOUD, but use the answers to them as the substance of your speech of evaluation.

In your written evaluation on this sheet, try to be as thorough as possible in comments on their delivery.

Note the following:

1. Did the speaker make good use of an exhibit?

Can you give helpful suggestions on this?

2. Did they use their hands well?

Give them suggestions.

3. What about their eye contact?

4. Was there an appearance of ease in stance and speech?

Did they manage a friendly smile or two?

5. Did their delivery show improvement over previous speeches?

6. Give them your best suggestions for further improvement in delivery.

7. The material of the speech:

(a) Was the title attractively worded?

(b) Did the opening sentence catch attention?

(c) Was the treatment of material such as to hold attention?

(d) Did the conclusion tie in with the subject and the opening?
