

Evaluation Guide

PROJECT NUMBER NINE

Working With Words

SPEAKER _____

DATE _____

SUBJECT _____

EVALUATOR _____

Note to the Evaluator: Improved use of words, or vocabulary building, is the purpose for this study. The speaker has been advised to enlarge their vocabulary, and to watch their errors in speech, including pronunciation, enunciation, choice of words, and grammatical construction. Watch them with this in mind.

Your Evaluation

Give attention to the use of words in the speech. In your brief speech of evaluation, call attention to the good words and the good use made of them. Mention a few of the more unusual ones. Point out any serious errors in pronunciation, in use of words, or in sentence construction.

Briefly evaluate the speech as to educational value, audience interest, and accomplishment of purpose.

For written criticism, use this sheet and give the speaker your best.

1. What about the speaker's use of words as to:

a. Selection? Do they use good variety of words?

b. Pronunciation? Are they accurate? Do they agree with the dictionary?*

c. Enunciation? Is their speech clear, or sloppy and slurred?

d. Grammar? Are they careful about finishing sentences, and about correct constructions? Do they have noticeable bad habits?

*Editor's Note: While the dictionary can be a useful resource for pronunciation guidance, remember that it does not include various accents and regional dialects. Your local pronunciation may differ.

2. Did the speech get across to the audience by reason of:

a. Interesting material?

b. Clever and original treatment?

c. Definite purpose?

d. Able and enthusiastic delivery?

e. Earnestness and sincerity?

3. What is the most encouraging thing you can say to the speaker?

4. What is your best suggestion to them for improvement?
